

David Woodsfellow is the Founder and Director of the Woodsfellow Institute for Couples in Atlanta, Georgia. The Woodsfellow Institute is dedicated to couples who want to enjoy life together, and therapists who want to learn more about couples therapy.

As a Licensed Psychologist, Dr. Woodsfellow has worked exclusively with couples for twenty-five years, totaling over 25,000 hours of couples therapy. David has helped over 1,800 couples rebuild happier lives together. A Fellow and Former Secretary of the Georgia Psychological Association, and Member of the Georgia Psychological Association, David has Master Certification in Relational Empowerment Therapy. He is also a Certified Imago Relationship Therapist and a Certified Mars/Venus Counselor. He has taken advanced training in Gottman Method Relationship Therapy and Emotionally-Focused Couples Therapy.

Dr. Woodsfellow was the Founder and Director of A Center for Relationship Therapy in Atlanta, Georgia, and Atlanta Area Sex Therapy, also in Atlanta, Georgia. He previously worked at Phoenix Psychological Associates, the Atlanta Network for Individual and Family Therapy, the Piedmont Psychiatric Clinic, and the Santa Barbara Institute for Family Therapy.

Dr. Woodsfellow has been training therapists in couples therapy for fifteen years. Over 1,200 therapists have taken his workshops, and over 200 therapists have taken his intensive months-long, small-group trainings.

His workshops include, Ethics with Couples; Affairs in Couples Therapy; Narcissism, Entitlement, and Grandiosity; Anger and Verbal Abuse in Couples; Starting Well with Couples; Beyond Imago Therapy; The Essence of Couples Therapy; and Working with Difficult Couples.

The Woodsfellow Institute for Couples Therapy is an Approved Provider of Continuing Education by the American Psychological Association, the Georgia Psychological Association, the Georgia Association of Marital and Family Therapists, and the Licensed Professional Counselors Association of Georgia.

David received his BA magna cum laude from Harvard College and his MA in Counseling Psychology from the University of California Santa Barbara. His PhD in clinical psychology was from Georgia State University and he did his clinical psychology internship at the Neuropsychiatric Institute, University of California Los Angeles School of Medicine.

David and his wife, Deborah, live in Atlanta, Georgia. David is an avid cyclist who rode his recumbent trike across the United States in 2017. David has one son, and two grand-daughters.